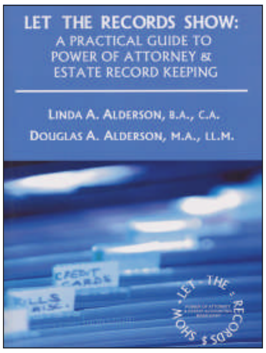
CA Authors



Let the Records Show: A Practical Guide to Power of Attorney & Estate Record Keeping
Linda A. Alderson, CA 1986 and Douglas A. Alderson M.A., LL.M

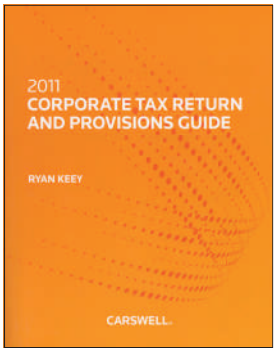
Let the Records Show: A Practical Guide to Power of Attorney & Estate Record Keeping offers a ten-step guide that provides tools to efficiently perform the financial record-keeping duties of an attorney acting under a continuing power of attorney for property (or similar document), an estate trustee (executor) acting under a will, or an estate administrator acting in the absence of a will.

Written for both the accountant and non-accountant, the book identifies the information relatives or friends will need in order to manage an estate under a power of attorney as well as eventually to wind up the affairs and distribute the estate as indicated in a will. It is hoped that anyone over the age of 18 will find Let the Records Show to be a valuable resource, whether they are acting as an attorney or estate trustee, or are in the process of appointing one.

This is the first book co-written by Chartered Accountant Linda Alderson, who has been a practising CA – on four continents and in a variety of roles – for 30 years. Interestingly, her co-author is her brother, Douglas Alderson, whose legal practice includes trusts and estates.

Plans are underway for a quarterly newsletter, The Quarterly Ledger, to help people concerned with record keeping – whether under a power of attorney or involved with administering an estate of a deceased person.

Let the Records Show: A Practical Guide to Power of Attorney & Estate Record Keeping is published by iUniverse and is available for purchase through Amazon.ca; Amazon.com; Chapters.Indigo.ca; and iUniverse.com.



2011 Corporate Tax Return and Provisions Guide
Ryan Keey, CA 2004

The 2011 Corporate Tax Return and Provisions Guide is a go-to resource for tax professionals involved in the preparation of corporate tax returns and/or in the tax provision preparation process. In addition to covering all aspects of corporate tax return and tax provisions preparation, the Guide also discusses other corporate tax compliance requirements and core shareholder taxation issues.

Tax practitioners can use the 2011 Corporate Tax Return and Provisions Guide to answer corporate tax questions throughout the year – the Guide is valid until the end of December 2012.

Text boxes and quick reference tables are used throughout the Guide to highlight key concepts, tips and traps. Easily-understood descriptions of technical tax legislation and accounting standards are also included. Extensive references are made to legislative provisions, court cases, corporate tax return schedules, a host of publications and tax articles, IFRS, CICA, and FASB tax accounting standards.

2011 Corporate Tax Return and Provisions Guide is another in a list of tax-related books from Chartered Accountant and author Ryan Keey. He has penned Canada Tax Service Tax Elections Guide 2012, Practitioner's Guide to Retail Sales Tax and the Transition to Harmonized Sales Tax, Canada Tax Service Foreign Affiliates Guide, and Canada Tax Service Depreciable Property Guide. Keey has a Masters Degree in Accounting with a specialization in tax from the University of Waterloo and was on the 2003 UFE Honour Roll.

2011 Corporate Tax Return and Provisions Guide is published by Carswell. If you are interested in obtaining a copy of it, visit www.carswell.com.